WHEN JONES THREATENED Sister of Victim Gives Graphic Story.

Interview Between E. M. Jones and Wife at Postoffice.

Civil Jury Case on Trial—Young More's Guardianship Ended.

Three more witnesses had their examinations completed in the Jones murder case yesterday. They were Dr. N. B. Emerson, John A. Rothwell and Mrs. Albert Lucas.

Dr. Emerson was examined by Deputy Attorney General Peters on the weights of the bullet that killed Mrs. Jones and a bullet taken from the revolver of defendant. Witness also testified regarding experiments he had made in shooting bullets into a human skull.

Objections backed with the usual battery of books were made by Messrs. Robertson and Dunne, the result of which was that Dr. Emerson's testimony on the weight of bullets was stricken out.

Mr. Rothwell, a road department engineer, gave evidence of knowledge of Jones and his affairs prior to the tragedy.

THE SISTER'S STORY.

Mrs. Albert Lucas, sister of the late Mrs. Linda K. Jones, was called in the afternoon. She told of an interview between Jones and his wife in front of the police station, directly after the trial of the assault case in June, 1903. The story was in substance as follows:

"My sister and I were standing in front of the police station. Defendant was across the street at the postoffice. He crossed the street to where we were and spoke to us. My sister told him that she had his clothes all packed up at the house, and wanted him to go and take them away.
"I am tired of seeing them lying around," she said.

GRIP CONVALESCENCE

There's nothing better than Scott's Emulsion after the grip. When the fever is gone the body is left weak and exhausted; the nervous system is completely run down and vitality is low.

Two things to do: give strength to the whole body and new force to the nerves. Scott's Emulsion will do it; contains just what the worn-out system needs.

Rich blood, healthy flesh, resistive force, more and better nourishment are what Scott's Emulsion supplies to the convalescent.

Scott's Emulsion is the original and has been the standard emulsion of cod liver oil for nearly thirty years. Why buy the new, untried, cheap emulsions or so called wines, cordials and extracts of cod liver oil, when you can buy what is sure to help you?

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

"Don't you love me?" Jones asked her.
"Don't talk to me about love; I am sick and tired of it," says my sister.
"Then my sister told him that she intended to see her lawyer in a few days and get a divorce from him."
"If you ever get a divorce from me, as I have often told you, I will never let you marry another man," says Jones. "Before I let you do that, I will kill you and the man too," says he.
"My sister did not say anything more to him. We turned round and went away and left Jones standing there."
Witness said Mrs. Jones was born Nov. 8, 1876. Over an objection from the defense, she testified that Mrs. Jones was engaged to be married to Charles Stone the motorman.

The remainder of Mrs. Lucas's evidence related to a family disturbance on the Parmenter premises on June 18, 1903, as she testified, which resulted in the arrest of Jones for assault and battery. On cross-examination she said she remembered the date because the experience of that day was something she could not forget. She would not admit or deny that she testified at the trial of Jones for killing her mother that the time was in "May or June." Some of the statements she made now, she said replying to a question, were not made by her at the trial.

When Mrs. Lucas was dismissed C. H. Elvin, armorer at the police station, was called but was not present. Mr. Peters stated that the witness had been in waiting the former part of the day, but had probably gone away under the impression that he would not be called that day.

It being ten minutes to four o'clock, the trial was continued until 10 o'clock this morning.

CIVIL JURY TRIAL.

Judge De Bolt was engaged yesterday on the trial of J. H. Schnack vs. Mary J. Montano, assumpti, the following jurors being empaneled: C. M. Cooke Jr., M. J. Bissell, E. Ingham, M. J. Brasch, J. W. Rankin, J. H. Thompson, Jno. McGuire, J. M. Aliu, F. W. Beardslee, E. M. Cheatham, L. M. Vettesen and C. J. Willis.

H. E. Middleditch appeared for the plaintiff, and J. A. Magoon and J. Lightfoot for the defendant. After the plaintiff rested, a motion for a nonsuit was refused and denied. The trial will be resumed at 9 a. m. today.

In a suit for $1250 as commission on a sale of real estate, together with interest, attorney's fees and costs.

COURT NOTES.

Judge Robinson granted the petition of B. L. Marx, guardian of Alex. Morton More, a minor, for approval of final account and discharge.

Sister Albertina, trustee, vs. David Kawanakoa and others, is set for hearing before Judge Robinson at chambers on Monday next at 9 a. m. In the case of Elise Neumann vs. Whiting & Robinson the defendants have two weeks from Feb. 6 wherein to plead.

DEATH OF EDWARD INGHAM'S FATHER

The Manchester Guardian contains this obituary notice of William Ingham, father of Edward Ingham, secretary of the Metropolitan Meat Company:

Mr. William Ingham.—Late on Thursday Mr. William Ingham, of Langcliffe Mills, near Settle, died in his 63rd year. He was educated at the famous Grammar School in his native village of Giggleswick, and starting work at the very bottom of the ladder in the cotton doubling mill of Mr. Lorenzo Christie at Langcliffe, he gradually worked his way to the management of the concern. As salesman for Mr. Hector Christie, who succeeded his father in the ownership of the mill, Mr. Ingham was well known on the Bradford and Manchester Exchanges. Possessed of keen business instincts, he proved himself to be of inestimable value to those in whose service his boundless energies were engaged. Of quick temperament, he had beneath the surface the very kindest of hearts, and few of those who appealed to him when in trouble were turned away. As a sportsman he was equally well known and liked on the Ribblesdale hills and moor. No keener follower of the dog and gun ever pursued the game of the uplands. The writer of this notice can recall the period when William Ingham, after a forty miles shooting expedition ended the day as fresh as a child. In his native village he held the post of clerk to his first Parish Council. He was a Churchman and at one period a manager of the National Schools at Settle. For many years he was one of the directors of the Craven Lime Company. He acquired within recent years several valuable farms and other holdings of land. He warmly supported the object of the North Ribblesdale Agricultural Association. In early life his leaning was to the side of Liberalism of the most pronounced type, but he became an ardent Unionist. He is survived by a widow, three sons, and three daughters, his eldest son, Mr. Henry Ingham, manager of the Craven Bank at Otley, having predeceased him last year.

HAWAIIAN HOTEL IS FILLED UP

For the first time in a good many years the Royal Hawaiian Hotel and all of its cottages are filled with guests from roof to cellar. Manager and Mrs. Church, as well as the housekeeper, had to give up their rooms yesterday to their guests. From present indications new cottages will have to be built in order to accommodate the tourists. The guests stay over steamer after steamer, and as many are booked ahead, it looks as if there will be an overflow within the next few weeks.

A small Portuguese boy was sent to the Reform School on Wednesday by Judge Whitney for stealing papers. The boy's offense has been that of stealing Sunday Advertisers. Paper thieves are being watched closely.

WHAT A BLESSING

Many People Are Learning to Appreciate in Honolulu.

What a blessing it is. Sought after by thousands. Honolulu is finding it out. Many a miserable man is happy now. Nights of unrest, days of trouble. Any itching skin disease means this. Itching Piles mean it. Eczema just as bad, and just as bad to cure.

But Doan's Ointment relieve at once, and cures all itchiness of the skin.

A blessing to a suffering public. Here's proof to back our statement: Mr. H. Ryall, of No. 11, Grosvenor St., South Yarra, a very old resident of Melbourne, Australia, states:

"For some considerable time I have been a sufferer from that annoying complaint known as irritating piles. At times the irritation was very annoying, especially at night, and in the warm weather. I applied some of Doan's Ointment, which I had obtained and I am pleased to say that it gave me the desired relief from this annoying disease."

Doan's Ointment is splendid in all diseases of the skin: Eczema, piles, hives, insect bites, sores, chilblains, etc. It is perfectly safe and very effective. Very frequently two or three boxes have made a complete cure of chronic cases that have not yielded to other remedies for years.

Doan's Ointment is sold by all chemists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box, or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Ltd.
